Wedhec EPA Radon Testing Guidance for Current Homeowners

*Though below the action level, radon levels of less than 4.0 pCi/L can still pose some risk and mitigation remains an option. Two tests should be done before considering mitigation. Most homes can be reduced to 2.0 pCi/L or below through mitigation. A level of "0" is not achievable.